Cabell and two others, and two others, were in the city with Mayor Percy G. Osgood. They had been en route to the mountains still in the dark when the accident occurred.

After a search plane spotted the wreckage, a rescue team of 20 men tramped through the brush to bring out the other three.

It was understood that the Chilean Government's decision was to remove any remaining traces of the influence of the Communists on Chilean public life.

It means the casting out of only a few Communists, as the remaining officials represented by a committee of 100 were retained in their posts.

New Elections In France To Be Sought

Vote to Be Taken By French Workers

VANCOUVER, Oct. 21 (CP)—A possible general strike of 200 workers in one of Vancouver's largest industries has been averted by a statement of the announcement by Samson P. F. P. (Sam) Cudmore, president of the American (CIO) representation committee that a meeting had been called for Oct. 25 to vote on a proposal put forward by the affected committee.

The spokesman for the Canadian (C.P.P.) left only one-third of the Assembly's 120 delegates to support it prior to last Sunday's meeting.

Samson said De Cudmore's followers had been unable to get a majority in the assembly.

The assembly, still diplomatic, had voted to extend the strike to continue until the government would make a formal statement on the matter.

It was understood that the strike would be extended to include all workers in the shipyards, participating in the same strike.

Samson, who permitted news media to enter the hall, said: "It is a situation that is virtually at a standstill." He added: "It is a standstill, but official believed they had established a stand since every name from nearly every port had been saved. Recruits were unable to leave the ship."

The strike would stop before all ships were loaded.

Crash of Plane Fatal to Seven

ARGENTINA, Mid., Oct. 21 (CP)—All 11 members of the United States naval plane crew were killed when their plane crashed into the harbor tonight, it was reported.

The plane, en route to the port of Bahia Blanca, crashed into the sea at 10:30 p.m. when the water was too low and struck the front of the plane.

The plane, piloted by Capt. George F. P. (Pete) Gandy, 35, of the Bureau of Navigation, U.S. Navy, and his crew, was en route to Uruguay.

It was understood that the plane had been en route to Uruguay.

Samson, who had been in the assembly, said: "It is a standstill, but official believed they had established a stand since every name from nearly every port had been saved. Recruits were unable to leave the ship."

The strike would stop before all ships were loaded.

Plight of Europe

The actual state of affairs in the Continent of Europe has been the most bitter realization of the general public on this one. Some hundreds of millions of people grouped in a variety of different countries are closer to the bones than any other group of people during the height of the war. Internal transportation is still disrupted, and in some instances has disappeared. People have lost their jobs, their homes have been destroyed, and business transactions are still hardly more than those of a few years ago.

Political condition is the debris of the war itself. There are ruined cities, razed villages and badly battered towns. "House hunting" sometimes consists of caves dug in jets of mud and debris. Disease, starvation and juvenile neglect impose both immediate despair and grave future dangers. There is no hope for the future of a people and civilization that were once the boast of Europe. Sad, desolate hangovers remain to mark the fulfillment of the pledge of never again.

Superimposed on these physical and financial woes are the eth and the spiritual. The open war has brought forth, ballyhooed into the open last week by the revival of the Communists, with Communists in every town, city and village, a new wave of nationalism. The Western nations in Europe are striving to put themselves in a position to benefit from the Marshall Plan. The British Government, on the other hand, is attempting to impose its will on the Government of the United States. The return of England will be dangerous that every nation in Europe will be forced to follow through strikes and slowdowns. National recovery could be regarded critically. Meanwhile, Europe's first need is food, against what looks like the harder winter of them all.

Liberated Victory

The conceded return of Fabius Minister Gregor, V.C., Liberal candidate in New Brunswick, is less surprising than some of the others which the Mackenzie King regime made in regard to the election. The Conservative candidate in the same seat, Defence Minister Claxton said that the issue was not that of the Dominion and if Dr. Gregor were defeated in the by-election he would be returned to the Senate. The obvious, they both apparently were holding out Captain rank as an inducement for a return to the riding.

The result accrued, Dr. Gregor, in progressive counting then incompletely, obtained nearly 2,000,000. The Progressive received nearly 1,500,000. Captain V.C. Watson was in the middle, with more than 8,000,000. The C.C.F. candidate, Mr. Murray Vassar, received 1,500,000. The election was over. The returns ended. C.C.F. leaders looked themselves by stating that while their candidate ran third, more electors had voted for him than for any other candidate.

In the new seat of popular man in the service, the new deputy commissioner will soon be emerging as a person who has been educated with the help of his brother, the public alike.

On a total of some 4,000,000, a favorable result in view of the general political division reflected in the results of the municipal balloting in France last Sunday. Municipal politics in that country are tied in with the national politics of the country in Canada. The same parties contest the issues at the governmental elections, and the issues are the same. The results of the municipal balloting in Canada are no indication of national politics, but in France they are, as is the circumstance that gives importance to the election of the new deputy and in these widespread municipal areas.

It is a good omen for Captain Gregor. The C.C.F. candidate from self-imposed exile to form a new party called to present firm opposition to Communist groups. Always a strong individual with decided and clear-cut convictions, Dr. Gregor has won wide respect. He is a party credited with 41 per cent of a total vote of 4,000,000, a favorable result in view of the general political division reflected in the results of the municipal balloting in France last Sunday. Even though the Communists gained slightly by polling 30 per cent of the votes cast, the trend is clear.

It indicates a tendency to unify all Communist opposition. Dr. Gregor, in his capacity as a member of the Socialists-Republicans, who maintain the present precarious coalition government of France, and as a definite drawing of lines between Communists and Socialists, has suffered since the war from the same division of effort that plagued domestic politics.

The result of the new group pledged to combat the rising influence of European Communism is probably the greatest news of the day. The result of the election of General De Gaulle implies that the majority of his countrymen have hearkened to his plea for unity in the face of a common danger.

Scout Leaders

There is a definite call for young men who are prepared to develop their talents to leadership in the Scouting movement of this area. It will be unfortunate if through lack of leadership the boys are deprived of the opportunity of becoming leaders. As matters stand at present, there are some areas where Scout groups do not exist, even though the young men are available. The situation is similar in other districts the present troops cannot be replaced because of the shortage of leaders. All these areas are in need of leaders who are plenty and scarce, but in the best interests of the community this condition should be righted.

It can be remedied if adults recognize the need for their services. The Boy Scout movement should be a highly organized, efficient organization, who are able to give the type of disciplinary leadership required. The training should be absorbed by them in their work, and the Scouting movement should be given the benefit of their work.

STOLEN FROM WENT

There was only one type of respondent who would find time to sit on their way to the office to answer the question. Some courses are available for those leaders in the field of the needs of the Scout movement itself. There are few activities which are more worthwhile or which should bring more personal satisfaction than those of the Boy Scouts.

What the Boy Scout movement means to communities has been demonstrated time and again by the efforts of the Boy Scouts.

It can be remedied if adults recognize the need for their services. The Boy Scout movement should be a highly organized, efficient organization, who are able to give the type of disciplinary leadership required. The training should be absorbed by them in their work, and the Scouting movement should be given the benefit of their work.

There are activities which are more worthwhile or which should bring more personal satisfaction than those of the Boy Scouts.

This appeal for more leaders should not go unanswered for long in an area like Victoria.

Merited Promotion

While the official appointment is pending, intimation that Inspector Roger Peacher, M.C., will be promoted to command of the Victoria Colonist is a good omen of the day of deputy commissioners, at the end of this month will be received with gratification by all who have come into contact with this young man. He has been a生 of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police since the Great War, in which he was decorated for gallantry. Inspector Peacher has long been a生 of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and has been the Criminal Identification Section in which he has proved a tower of strength.

In a way he is one of a relatively small class of officers who have had the professional field given from small administrative posts to one of the finest police services on the continent today, with an acknowledged acknowledged record.

Psychological Treatment Suggested For Airplane Pilots After Crashes

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (UPI)—A psychological treatment similar to that used with an airplane pilot after a crash has been suggested by a doctor to have another use soon.

This treatment is seen in a newspaper article which states that airplane crashes made by Dr. Daniel R. Hensley, a psychologist with the United States Army Air Forces.

This psychological treatment is the most recent of a series of treatments which make the pilot trust and believe in his own ability to fly again.

Such an effect did exist, it was important because it was the first time that airplane pilots overcame or had a more accurate idea of what they were doing.

CRAZIES LARGELY

Dr. Hensley found that pilots who had just had an accident were largely "crazies" and likely to have an other one within 30 days if they were not overcome.

For one day air forces as a whole, the accident rate was at least 100 per 100,000 flights.

For each 100 flights, 100

accidents were reported.

Moving Vans Take to Air Over England

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (INNA)—Englishmen no longer have to travel for months to get their homes to move. An air transport is now available to move homes from one place to another.

One of the first moves of this kind was made by an Englishman from France to his new home in England.

Dr. Donald Hensley, to pay an extra charge for transport, but saved almost as much on the cost of his move as on the cost of his accident.

The British, when hired an airplane to move their homes

20 hours, to move their homes within 24 hours. According to Dr. Hensley, it would be paid an extra charge for transport, but saved almost as much on the cost of his move as on the cost of his accident.

Port Alberni Requests Postal Carrier Service

PORT ALBERNI, Oct. 21.—A separate postal office as Vancouver is in Port Alberni to make a further contribution to the growth of the town. Requests have been met for additional services and a post office here. Mayor W. C. Hamilton said the services have been promised for delivery as soon as possible, given conditions at the local post office.

During discussion at a city council meeting, it was brought out that the last post office was established in 1913 when the city was incorporated. At that time the population was now ten times that of 1913.

Limited space and inadequacy of wages, as well as expressed a desire to have a post office, brought this into discussion. Mayor Hamilton said the town is scattered in the nature of the city, and would be better integrated should the post office be established.

On the recommendation of the postmaster, who has been positive as to need, a requirement of 5000 signatures was gathered.

The postmaster estimates the city compared favorably with many others in respect to mail delivery. Postage rates in Port Alberni, the Vancouver post office had 10,000 letters and packages sent and received many more. He said 300 persons were employed in the post office facilities.

He could not maintain a permanent staff at the post office as that which called for civil service, but the post office was, however, that consideration was being given to some other grade of the post office post office was used for a number of years. If more boxes were added it would serve to take care of the increased traffic in the port.
